

Reawakened

Traditional navigators of Te Moana-nui-a-Kiwa

JEFF EVANS

$39.99CATEGORY: Biography,
Pacific Studies

ISBN: 978-0-9951318-0-4

ESBN: 978-0-9951318-1-1

THEMA: 1MKP, DNP, NHTM,
3MPQ, 3MRB

BIC: BK, TRLN, 1MKP, HBJM, 3JJP

BISAC: BIO034000, TRA008000

PUBLISHER: Massey University Press

IMPRINT: Massey University Press

PUBLISHED: June 2021

PAGE EXTENT: 256 pages

FORMAT: Soft cover

SIZE: 230mm x 163 mm

RIGHTS: World

AUTHOR'S RESIDENCE: Auckland,
New ZealandPRINTABLE A3 POSTER
AVAILABLE UPON REQUEST

THE STORIES OF TEN MASTER NAVIGATORS INTERTWINED WITH THE REBIRTH OF PACIFIC VOYAGING

In this important book, ten navigators from Aotearoa New Zealand, the Cook Islands and Hawai`i share the challenges and triumphs of traditional wayfinding based on the deep knowledge of legendary navigator Mau Piailug. They also discuss the significance of receiving the title of Pwo (master navigator) from Piailug, and the responsibilities that come with that position. Their stories are intertwined with the renaissance of knowledge and traditions around open-ocean voyaging that are inspiring communities across the Pacific.

The navigators include three from Aotearoa New Zealand: Hec Busby, Piripi Evans, and Jack Thatcher; two from the Cook Islands: Peia Patai, Teuatakiri Tearutua Arthur (Tua) Pittman; and five from Hawai`i: Nainoa Thompson, Chad Kālepa Baybayan, Shorty Bertelmann, Bruce Blankenfeld and Chad `Onohi Paishon.

Their stories are intertwined with the movement that proved that the exploration and settlement of the eastern Pacific was deliberate, and one of the greatest feats of navigation in human history. Each of the profiles includes a specific aspect of the contemporary voyaging story, and describes how these remarkable men learnt to navigate voyaging canoes across thousands of miles of open ocean.

'Evans provides a potently beguiling account of these oceanic wayfinders.' —
Chris Moore, New Zealand Listener

SALES POINTS

- For the first time the stories of these 'rock stars' of voyaging are told together — how they came to it, what they have achieved and their vision for the future
- Fascinating interviews uncover the blend of traditional knowledge, science, passion, stamina and strength needed to guide a voyaging canoe
- Describes the work that is being done in various communities to promote traditional voyaging skills and knowledge, and its value in lifting up those who come in contact with it

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Jeff Evans is a writer and photographer based in Auckland. He has written several books relating to waka, including Ngā Waka o Neherā, Polynesian Navigation and the Discovery of New Zealand and Waka Taua: The Maori War Canoe. Between them, these books recall Māori migration traditions, describe navigation skills used by Māori to voyage between the islands in the central Pacific and New Zealand, and introduce the reader to waka taua. Jeff's most recent book was Heke-nuku-mai-nga-iwi Busby: Not Here by Chance (Huia, 2015). In 2020 he was awarded a summer residency at the Michael King Writer's Centre to work on this book.